Teen Life Theater Productions

A new program to involve inner-city youth creatively in the issues of teen sexuality has been launched by UC-San Francisco at San Francisco General.

The UCSF Teen Family Life Theater, one of the community out-reach efforts of the Teen Family Planning Project of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at SFGH, has recruited a company of multi-ethnic teens from five high schools — Mission, Woodrow Wilson, John O'Connell, Balboa and Downtown.

After training in peer education and drama skills, these young actors and actresses will use improvisational theater techniques to develop their own scripts for a series of one act plays based on teen life experiences. Fifteen performances will be presented in Spanish and English in high schools and before community organizations and parents' groups. The performances will be used to introduce workshops in which teens can express their feelings about decision making, communication, parent-teen relations, sex roles and related issues.

Students Help Design Park

Second-year architectural students from San Francisco City College recently took on a class project to redesign the motorcycle parking lot at Third and Parnassus Avenue on the UCSF campus.

Eight out of 20 drawings were selected and will be displayed on campus in the next few months. Some of the ideas, including planting trees and building a terrace, eventually will be incorporated into a final design for the lot. This redesigning is part of the Campus Beautification Program.

Nutrition Guide Available

Nutrition UCSF: A Resource Guide to Courses, Services and Research, has just been completed by the UC-San Francisco School of Medicine. In addition to 16 nutrition courses that UCSF offers, the guide lists numerous nutrition services offered to San Francisco by various departments at UCSF, SFGH and the VAMC. It also carries a listing of nutrition-related research currently being conducted by approximately 100 faculty members at these institutions.

The guide will be especially useful to health care professionals, social workers, counselors and educators. It was made possible through a grant from the Bureau of Health Manpower, Health Resources Administration, Department of Health and Human Services and is available by writing to the Office of the Dean, School of Medicine, Medical Sciences Building, 513 Parnassus Avenue, Room 224, S.F. 94143.

Cost Containment Programs

The John A. Hartford Foundation has awarded a $627,235 research grant to the UCSF Health Policy Program to test the effectiveness of teaching hospital cost containment programs. The project will compare three different educational programs designed to improve the appropriateness and cost effectiveness of physician ordering of hospital services. While similar programs have been used in other hospitals in the country, this is the first attempt to compare and evaluate them systematically.

The study is based on findings from other teaching hospitals that physicians in training often order more laboratory tests and other services for their patients than necessary and may have little idea of how much such tests cost. As a result of these and other factors, the cost of medical care, and especially hospital care, has been rising steadily and rapidly.

The project will assist other medical schools and hospitals in determining how best to teach their own medical staffs to use hospital resources more prudently and frugally.

Ground work was laid for this project by UCSF Hospitals and Clinics and the School of Medicine. A planning year to determine the feasibility of such a cost containment effort was supported by the California Hospital Association, the California Medical Education and Research Foundation (CMA) and UCSF Hospitals and Clinics.

Campus Safety

Visitors to UC-San Francisco are reminded that a free Night Security Shuttle Service is available. Two shuttles operate seven nights a week, 5:30 p.m. to 2 a.m. They leave approximately every 15 minutes from the front doors of Moffitt Hospital and the bus shelters at Langley Porter Psychiatric Institute, the new School of Dentistry building, and the H level of the Millberry Union garage. The shuttle service transports people to the garage, public transit stops, homes and parked cars within the areas bordered by Clarendon, Clayton, Golden Gate Park and Ninth Avenue. The pick-up point on Ninth Avenue is in front of the "Donuts & Things" shop at the corner of Judah. For further information call 666-1414.

Most pedestrian and vehicle entrances and exits are now locked on weekdays from 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. and all day on weekends and holidays. During these restricted hours, pedestrians from Irving Street should use the Ambulatory Care Center entrance and elevators to reach Parnassus Avenue. Drivers should use the public parking entrance and exit on Parnassus Avenue, park on H level of the Millberry Union garage, and wait for the Night Security Shuttle. During daytime hours, pedestrians also can use the west stairwell in the garage, which is equipped with bright lights and reflectors. All other garage stairwells should be used for emergencies only.

The Rape Prevention Education program offers self-defense classes for men and women as well as self-defense workshops. For further information call 666-5683.

Job Fair Jan 23

The second annual UC-San Francisco Job Fair will be held on Friday, January 23 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Queen Adah Hall, 1390 Turk Street, between Fillmore and Webster Streets. Supervisors from various departments at UCSF will interview candidates for several positions available at UCSF. In addition, career counseling will be available.

The fair, sponsored by UCSF's Personnel Department, the Western Addition Project Area Committee, the Bay Area Urban League, and the Committee Advisory Board of the West Side Community Mental Health Center, is part of UCSF's Affirmative Action Outreach project.
